

Heaven, My Father's House (Looking forward to heaven)

John 14:3

Pastor Bobby Garvin

- Fear will always knock on your door. Just don't invite it for dinner. And for heaven's sake, don't offer it a bed for the night.
- If Jesus' tomb is empty, then His promise is not. So, let's die with faith.
- I am looking forward to heaven. Knowing where you are going takes the uncertainty out of getting there.
- What do I need when I'm dying? Unshakeable hope that God keeps His promise. The Bible is unbreakable; therefore my hope will be unshakeable.

We have hope for today (John 14:3)

- Heaven is our personal hope.
- The best of what we have known and experienced in this life is but the appetizer for that main entrée that is to come in heaven.

We have a Hope for Tomorrow (John 14:3)

- * We are in the land of the dying headed for the land of the living.
- * Jesus elevates funerals to the same level as weddings
- * Your final glimpse of life will trigger your first glimpse of Him.
- * Death is a new adventure in existence. No need to dread it or ignore it. Because of Christ, you can face it.
